About this map

This map shows the distribution of surnames across Georgia. The size of each name indicates how many people have that name in a given administrative district. The names are also color-coded according to the suffix of the name. -idzes and -adzes dominate western and central Georgia, while -shvilis dominate the east. In the south, Armenian names dominate one region and Azeri names another. Samegrelo and Svaneti have their own unique flavor of names as well.
